

The Team Time Trial is BACK on the TRACK!!

Unlike the Tour de France this year, there will once again be a Team Time Trial at the Charlotte Motor Speedway! We received a number of questions about the TTT and we're very pleased to offer it again in 2010.

The speed, intensity and fun of the Team Time trial is like no other bike race you've done. The 10 mile race goes by much faster than an individual Time Trial. Your adrenaline is flowing and along with the pressure of not disappointing your teammates, you find yourself pushing beyond the speed you thought you were capable of riding. All of the while you're feeling the exhilaration of team work.

The Team Time Trial is the one race when drafting your team members is not only allowed it is required to be successful. The way our Team Time Trials is structured, all you need is four friends that want to form a team to take on the challenge of the track. There are TTT race categories for most anyone, including, Licensed Men, Licensed Women, Club (recreational) Men and Women, Tandem, Couples, Youth.

So now, who will be the top team in each race category? Who will have bragging rights? What team will claim the Team Time Trial categories of Couples and Youth? One thing is for sure, the Team Time Trial is fun, fast and frantic for the cyclists and the spectators both.

If you've raced the individual time trials at Charlotte Motor Speedway, you now owe it to yourself to step-up and race the Team Time Trial. Don't delay, register your team now. With the TTT, you'll have a story you'll be telling your kids and grandkids about for many years. How many cycling events can you say that about? We guarantee, the Team Time Trial will be one race you'll never forget.

Mark your calendar for Wednesday, September 1, 2010 and the Team Time Trial at Charlotte Motor Speedway. Registration for the TTT is open at Sport Often. There is NO ON-SITE REGISTRATION FOR THE TTT. Registration ends when 40 teams sign up or the last day for registration on August 28, 5:00 PM.
